By Vicky Jones

Wednesday morning of last week, I was on Interstate 70 driving to work when I got caught in the rain storm that crossed Wabaussee County at about 1:00 a.m. I was only a quarter mile from the Alma Exit 228 when the rain hit. Visibility was almost non-existent and after easing off the highway I sought shelter under the bridge that crosses Kansas Highway 160. I and about five other vehicles with drivers who had the same idea of seeking shelter waited about 15 minutes. I crept on to work. I believe we had a heavy rain, because water was running in the streets of Alma. It was not needed.

weather forecast on the Saturday evening news indicated that this would be another scorcher with temperatures hovering around 100 on Sunday morning at 6:30 a.m. I did yard work, watering the birds making sure the bird bath was full. It was a delightful moment as the birds were singing and no one was out and about. The little birds that have been around since spring were pecking at the red mulberries under the tree in our back yard. They were raised in the tree in the front yard. The birds are used to me being in the yard, but just moved off a little and did not seem afraid. We also have the bunnies scurrying around. They appear to be about a couple of months old and usually hide in the flowers. I scared up one of them and a little fur ball didn't go far. I believe they are used to me being well!

I have a nice motorcycle ride on Saturday. Early in the morning I go to Estridge for breakfast at the Coffee Cup Café and then later to Alma for lunch at the Pharmacy. (I like to eat out: no cooking at home.) The remainder of my time on Saturday and part of Sunday was spent going through boxes of pictures I stored in 2013 and cleaning out my Dad's house. It was a trip down memory lane, and I got out some bittersweet memories. However, I now have an abundance of more boxes labeled with various names so that I might be able to find the wealth I'm sure some of my cousins will be delighted to have. I have some of those long-ago pictures!

Next time, take care and God bless you during the week. I know inside most of the time, either at work or at home - working!
